

Sweden needs to hire veterinarians!

Are you a veterinarian from an EU/EEA country curious to work in Sweden? Apply to our vacancy on www.recrutojobb.se typing in “veterinarians” or scan the QR-code and we will help you in your process.

We would like to receive your CV and Cover letter in English and we will match this with current job offers. Job offers can be all over Sweden.

We advice you as well to register for the upcoming online event "Swedish Day" on the 27th of October 2022. Closer to the event we will update the event page with vacancies. Apply for jobs available on the event-page so that you can get in contact with the employer that you are interested in. On the day of the event you can also listen to presentations from the employers. www.europeanjobdays.eu

According to our latest figures there is a need of 350 licensed veterinarians in Sweden. Currently, we are in contact with several Swedish employers who cannot find the sufficient amount of veterinarians in Sweden.

When coming to work in Sweden as a veterinarian learning the Swedish language is important. The employer don't expect you to know Swedish when arriving in Sweden, but support you fully in learning the language as soon as possible. There are online Swedish lessons that you can start with that can be found on the Web.

You need to apply for a temporary provision of veterinary services or a veterinary license to be able to work as a veterinarian in Sweden. Your future employer can help you with this. For more information click on other languages and Animal health staff at www.jordbruksverket.se

Eures veterinary team
Rob Floris & Anders Carlsson Eklund